"... the seed sown on rich soil is the one who hears the word and understands it. . ." Matthew 13:23

† Servant Leader †

Today I write about St. Patrick's Home for Children. Since Bishop Weigand gave me responsibility for this in February, I have come to know and appreciate this special place for children and young girls aged 11-18. At this point I know all the staff well, see the great work they do, and realize the challenges we face. It is a joy to be involved in work so close to the gospel, caring for children who have many needs and problems.

Our residential homes for girls are a blessing. To see these young ladies come from very difficult situations and find a place of love, direction and hope is a wonderful sight to behold. I am confident we do great good for their young lives.

In our day care programs we are able to offer security, play, joy, learning, a sacred environment, and compassionate care givers to the toddlers and children in the lower grades of elementary school. It is so nice to go in, sit on the small chairs and see the children go through the activities of their day.

In foster care it is so enriching when a child finds a home, a family, a place of peace and rest when they previously experienced so much of the opposite. I invite parishioners to consider being a foster care parent. This is very much needed as we have so many children needing a home but not enough homes for them. We provide training, social workers to assist the child and foster family, constant support and sufficient funding for the great work foster parents do. Could you be a foster care parent? Would you like more information on this or any of the work of St. Patrick's Home for Children? Would you like to become "a friend of St. Patrick's Home for Children?"

Would you like to be a regular donor to St. Patrick's Home programs (identify the Day Care or Residential or Foster Care program as you wish)? Would you consider making a donation in memory of a loved one at a time of death in lieu of flowers or suggest it to family or friends?

Please contact me at St. Patrick's Home for Children, 5945 Franklin Blvd., Sacramento, CA 95824, (916) 421-4963 ext 11. I will be glad to hear from you and appreciate your support for this great cause.

Sincerely in Christ,
Fr. Kiernan

HOLY FAMILY PARISH HOLY HOUR

Including Adoration and Benediction in celebration of the

Year of the Eucharist

Today, Sunday, July 10, 2005
After the noon Mass, in the Church

The concept of a Holy "Hour" was inspired by Christ's words to His apostles in Gethsemane, "Can you not watch one hour with me?"

A Holy Hour consists of the Exposition of the Eucharist, Adoration, Benediction and Reposition. This "sacramental ritual" is rooted in the Passion of Christ – in the Eucharist – and its celebration leads us to focus on the real presence of Christ in the Eucharist and to keep the Eucharist where it belongs, at the center of our lives.

In addition to the Exposition and Benediction, adoration of the Blessed Sacrament will be available in the church from the Holy Hour until 5:00 pm. During this time, we will also celebrate the rosary and a litany in thanksgiving for the gift of the Eucharist.

Stewardship

~ a way of life ~

St. Patrick's Home for Children

SECOND COLLECTION THIS WEEK - ST. PATRICK'S HOME:

In over one hundred years of existence, St. Patrick's Home for Children has served the many needs of the children and families of Sacramento and the surrounding areas. St. Patrick's is dedicated to the idea that all children deserve the security, attention, and guidance that gives them hope for the future, and the care and warmth that gives them the chance to love and be loved. Please see Fr. Kiernan's Servant Leader column in this bulletin for his first-hand account of this crucial ministry.

The children need our love and our help, as do their families. Government funding, even before recent reductions, and the parent paid program fees cannot fully fund the services we provide to meet the needs of children and families, making private contributions more vital than ever.

This weekend, we will take up a second collection for St. Patrick's, and we will discuss other avenues of stewardship that will further develop Holy Family's special bond with this vital ministry.

PRESERVING OUR PAST... BUILDING OUR FUTURE CAMPAIGN UPDATE

Bishop William Weigand wishes to extend his appreciation to the families in our parish who have given their financial support to the campaign and those who are in the midst of payments on their pledges. The campaign is now just past the midpoint. Immense progress has been made. The Cathedral will reopen this coming November and many Catholic Schools have new facilities and programs. Social service ministries are receiving precious resources. Priests' retirement goals are more than half funded. Restorations and improvements at individual parishes are impressive, yet the campaign is far from completing its goals. Of the $77.3 million pledged, $41.2 million had been collected as of March 31, 2005. It is vitally important that the full participation of each and every family that pledged its support is realized. Anyone who wishes to contact the Campaign office may do so by calling 916-733-0266.

Holy Family Parish ends the fiscal year at 70% of our goal on Capital Campaign contributions. Given the great transition we have undergone as a parish, this is understandable. I encourage all involved in the Capital Campaign to do the best they can to honor all commitments. Thank you very much to all who have already paid off their pledges.

STEWARDSHIP COMMITTEE MEETING:

The Holy Family Stewardship Committee meets on Tuesday evening, July 12th, at 7:00 pm in St. Joseph Hall of the Community Center. All parishioners are invited to attend and lend your support. The focus of this meeting will be the continued planning of a parish Monte Carlo Night scheduled for September 24, 2005. Please join us for the meeting, and mark your calendar for this wonderful event!

SAINT VINCENT de PAUL THRIFT STORE IS MOVING TO OUR PARISH:

The thrift store of the Sacramento Diocesan Council has lost its lease on Fulton Avenue in Sacramento, where it has been for 15 years, and will be moving this month to 6105 Sunrise Vista Drive in Citrus Heights. Our store will now be just east of Sunrise Mall in the old Pep Boys building. The new location will be much more expensive than the old location and volunteer assistance is badly needed. If you can volunteer any of your time during the move or on a more regular basis once our store is operating in Citrus Heights please call Bill Swars, 722-5578.

Help is needed in all types of areas including office work, sorting of books or clothing, furniture repair, carpentry, warehousing and many other tasks. Please help us help others if you are able. You need not join our local conference to volunteer at the store.

ARTICLE 7: THE SOUND OF SILENCE

It seemed like a typical Sunday Mass in a typical parish. The opening hymn was joyful, the Sprinkling Rite was effective, and the Glory to God was sung with vigor. Then the presider said, "Let us pray." The server brought the book to him, but nothing happened. Ten seconds became fifteen, then twenty. People began to look around nervously and wondered: What's Father waiting for? Did he fall asleep? Is he having a seizure?

In fact, he was simply doing what the liturgy intends. The missal says that, after the priest says "Let us pray," the priest and people "pray silently for a while." In some Masses that "while" lasts only a few seconds, but it is intended to be a brief yet significant pause for silent prayer. This is an appropriate time for each of us to recall our particular needs and hopes and present them to the Lord. Then the priest gathers our prayers into one opening prayer, sometimes called a "collect" because it collects our prayers together.

This is one of several places in the liturgy that silence is encouraged by the official books. The liturgy must always be a blend of sounds and silence. Since liturgy is communal worship, it is natural that most of the time we are together will be filled with vocal and musical prayer. Yet there is also a need for moments of silence to allow ourselves to enter more deeply into the worship we share.

The entrance rites contain two moments for silence: a brief one during the penitential rite and a bit longer one before the opening prayer. During the Liturgy of the Word, several other moments call for times of silence. The General Instruction of the Roman Missal encourages such silences before the Liturgy of the Word itself begins, (that is, before the first reading), after the first and second readings and after the homily.

It calls for such silences so that "the word of God may be grasped by the heart and a response through prayer may be prepared" (# 56).

Another extended time of silence in the liturgy comes after all have received communion. During the communion procession, everyone should be singing the communion song as a sign of our union in Christ. When all the movement of the procession is completed, we sit down together and spend some time in shared silent prayer.

These times of silence don't work automatically, of course. It takes a deliberate effort from every member of the assembly even to allow silence to occur. The ministers up front may be quiet, but shared silence also requires the assembly to embrace it. Sometimes we seem a bit uncomfortable with silence, because we live in a world of almost constant noise. We need to learn how to be silent together.

And in the silence, each of us must decide whether to engage in sincere prayer or just to daydream. If we embrace these times of silent prayer, however, they can do much to enrich our experience of the liturgy, drawing us closer to Christ and to one another as we worship together.

ARTICLE 8: LISTEN UP: THIS IS IMPORTANT!

What would happen if Jesus came to church next Sunday? I mean, if he showed up in his first-century garb-robe, sandals, beard-and walked up to the ambo and began to speak. What would you do? How would you react?

I suspect it's a safe bet that all of us would have our eyes fixed on him and our ears alert to every word he would speak. Of course, somebody would probably be on a cell phone alerting the media to this miraculous event!

Such an event should not strike us as so unusual, however. Though he does not appear in first-century dress, Jesus comes here every Sunday to speak to us. That's what the Catholic tradition teaches-that when the word of God is proclaimed in our midst, Christ speaks to us today. He comes in disguise, we might say, speaking through the lectors and deacons and priests who proclaim the readings. The Second Vatican Council put it this way in 1963: "[Christ] is present in his word, since it is he himself who speaks when the holy Scriptures are read in the Church" (CSL, # 7).

This is the third way that Christ reveals his presence during the Eucharist. Every time we gather in his name, Christ has something to say to us. Reverence for Christ present in his word calls us to attentive listening. Formed in the time when the Mass was in Latin and we had to read along, many Catholics still have a habit of reading the texts as they are proclaimed. The proper response is to put down the books and listen with open ears and open hearts to what the Lord is saying to us.

Listening does not mean being passive, however. Truly listening is a very active response when someone speaks to us. We show respect for anyone who talks with us by looking at the person and concentrating on what he or she is saying. That takes effort on our part, not allowing other thoughts or external distractions to claim our attention.

It may be helpful to realize, however, that our primary task is not to get every word that is spoken, but to listen carefully for whatever word the Lord wants each of us to hear that day. That will vary from person to person, but Christ offers each of us the message that we really need to hear. It's a good idea to read the readings at home before you come to Mass; that's why most parishes print the Bible references in the bulletin each week so that you can look them up. Then when the word is proclaimed, you can allow Christ to speak directly to you through the readings and the homily. If you are touched deeply by one word or phrase or idea every Sunday, and if you nurture that word in your heart through the week, then God's word will be effective in your life.

In the silence after the readings and after the homily, you might ask yourself two simple questions: What did you hear Christ say? And how will you live that word this week? The answers to those questions can change your life!
