CHURCHES MUST WORK FOR UNITY

Catholics and Orthodox have a responsibility to work toward full unity in accordance with the will of Christ, Pope Benedict XVI said.

Meeting with a committee preparing for a full meeting of the international Catholic-Orthodox dialogue, the pope said he rejoiced at the desire to "take up again and pursue the dialogue which, over the past few years, had known serious internal and external difficulties."

The last meeting of the international Catholic-Orthodox dialogue was held in 2000 to discuss the role and theological implications of the agreements that led to the formation of the Eastern Catholic churches. That meeting ended without any conclusions or decisions agreeable to Orthodox and Catholics.

Fifteen autonomous Orthodox churches, meeting at the Ecumenical Patriarchate of Constantinople in Turkey, agreed in September that the dialogue should be restarted.

The decision, the pope told Orthodox and Catholic members of the preparatory committee, "constitutes a great responsibility. It is indeed a question of achieving the will of the Lord who wants his disciples to form a harmonious community and to witness together to the brotherly love that comes from the Lord."

Pope Benedict said, "in this new phase of dialogue," Catholics and Orthodox must work to eliminate the differences remaining between them and resolve "to do everything to re-establish full communion, which is an essential good for the community of Christ's disciples, as is underlined in the preparatory document you are working on."

Pope Benedict told the church officials and theologians that the full communion Catholics and Orthodox seek with one another is "a communion in truth and charity."

"We cannot be satisfied to remain at an intermediate stage," he said. Rather, "without ceasing, but with courage, clarity and humility, we must seek the will of Jesus Christ, even if it does not correspond to our simple human plans."

The reconciliation of the Christian community, he said, will come only "at the price of submitting our wills to the will of the Lord."

Pope Benedict said human efforts alone would not be enough, which is why all Catholics and Orthodox must pray for the gift of unity.

Explaining the 15 years of difficulty in Catholic-Orthodox dialogue, the Vatican statement said the fall of communism in Eastern Europe and the freedom it brought to Eastern-rite Catholics in territories with a majority Orthodox population "reopened wounds in Catholic-Orthodox relations that had never healed."

The five years that have passed since the last meeting of the commission, the Vatican statement said, "were years of patient hope."

"Pope John Paul II never let an opportunity go by to underline the importance of reactivating the theological dialogue while taking into account (the) need to overcome difficulties deriving from psychological attitudes, a lack of mutual knowledge" and differing developments in the churches of the East and West, the statement said.

(The annual Week of Prayer for Christian Unity continues through Wednesday January 25th. Please see the schedule of events on the next page.)

There is a certain urgency in today's Gospel as Jesus calls His first disciples - Andrew and Simon, James and John. Each one follows Jesus immediately, unhesitatingly abandoning nets and boats and father and fellow workers. To what is Jesus calling me at this moment, in these circumstances? What will I need to abandon in order to follow Him?

Holy Family School

HOLY FAMILY SCHOOL students, faculty, and staff are exercising their bragging rights to exclaim over the school's performance in the Loretto High School Math-a-Thon last week! This annual contest for fifth, sixth, and seventh grade girls included teams from twenty-two area schools, and Coaches Leanna Patterson and Dawn Altobell, math teachers, led the seventh grade team to sweep First Place Team Honors plus first, second, and third places in the individual competition. The sixth grade team took home the First Place Team Trophy plus second place in the individual competition; and a fifth grade team member earned a second place trophy in the individual competition. Seventh grade team members were Christina Milanes, Melissa Wong, and Lisa McMonagle, with Krismy Alfaro and Jessica McKeon as alternates. ## Health Ministry

NEW HOURS - HELP WANTED!

The Health Ministry office will now be open Tuesdays and Thursdays from 10:00 am to 12:00 pm for scheduled and unscheduled appointments. You may call the office for an appointment at 721-0388. Blood pressure checks will continue to be done on the 1st Sunday of the month after the 7:30 am Mass and will continue for ALL parishioners until 1:15 pm. It is our hope to have an interpreter to assist us after the 10:30 Mass for those non-English speaking Hispanic parishioners. It is important to the success of the program to have a Health Ministry Committee to advise and suggest health programs and priorities specific to this parish. We have one volunteer at this time; however, three volunteers plus one bilingual Hispanic parishioner are needed. A volunteer does not need to have any medical background - just an interest in the overall health and educational programs that would be of interest and benefit to parishioners and their friends. Examples of such topics include CPR, Diabetes and Advance Directive classes. Meetings would be kept to a minimum. PLEASE contact us as soon as possible if you are interested at 721-0388.
