

April 8, 2007 – Easter Sunday: The Resurrection of the Lord

“This is the day the Lord has made; let us rejoice and be glad!” Psalm 118:24

† Servant Leader † Resurrection!

For Christians throughout the world, the dawn of Easter morning marks the celebration of the triumph of life over death, as we affirm our faith in the resurrection of Jesus.

Religious faith is easily caricatured these days, dismissed as a failure of nerve before the ambiguities of real life or, more sobering, is identified with a fanaticism that seeks to assert its dominance over nonbelievers. However, the lessons of Lent have reminded us of the emptiness of such caricatures.

The annual pilgrimage of Lent has been a renewal of religious memory, as the liturgy led us through the history of salvation, a story of broken covenants and a God of justice and mercy. It is not a story of easy escapes but of painful exile, of testing in the desert and prophetic denunciations and, finally, of a new covenant sealed in the passion and death of Jesus. On Easter morning, then, Christians do not indulge in a magical but momentary distraction from the raw reality of life and the dangers of our moment in history. On the contrary, our Easter celebration can help us more dearly recognize ourselves and the possibilities of our historical moment.

Christian hope is rooted in Christian realism. Authentic hope is, above all, resilient; it survives the shattering of all expectations. It is capable of confronting a future that can never be dearly predicted and certainly cannot be fully controlled. Easter hope always deals with possibilities rather than guarantees. Hope, when all is said and done, is quite different from security. In our individual lives, as well as in the larger march of history, our Easter faith does not provide any exemption from darkness and danger. However, Easter does remind us of the deepest ground of our trust that there is meaning in our world as in our personal lives.

The triumph of Jesus over death assures us that our world will make sense in the long run, even if it sometimes seems to be spinning out of control. The march of history will not end in some cruel joke, even if along the way there are tragic detours. Our personal lives can achieve their full promise, even if our actions sometimes contradict our best intentions. The final word in our personal pilgrimage and in the story of the human family will be a word of light and love.

In the Book of Deuteronomy, the people of Israel express their faith that God's word is uttered in an ever-present now:

“Today you hear his voice.” God's word is not only a revered memory; it is an enduring challenge. And for the Christian, the passion of Jesus is a contemporaneous experience, renewed in the sacramental remembrance of the liturgy but also present in the scars of the oppressed and the brutalized today, whether in the deserts of Darfur, the violent streets of Baghdad or the forgotten pockets of poverty in affluent Western cities. Whatever you have done to the least of my people, Jesus said, you have done to me. This sense of the continuing passion of Jesus in our world today roots our Easter faith in the actual cries of God's people.

The religious memories that engage us during Holy Week are fulfilled on Easter morning; but they are, after all, memories of suffering - the exile of Israel, the passion and death of Jesus - and these same memories of suffering and death are the source of a renewed hope. Authentic hope does not blink at the dark realities of life: pain, betrayal, oppression and death. Authentic hope is grounded in the unshakable trust that God will be faithful to his people, and the power of his spirit can transform darkness into light, rescue love from loneliness and bring life out of death.

Finally, Christians believe that the resurrection of Jesus does not only mean that eternal life awaits us after death; we also believe that life can come out of death, that death and resurrection is a pattern that prevails throughout our pilgrimage. If the grain of wheat does not fall to the ground and die, it remains just a grain of wheat; but if it dies, it produces much fruit. This biblical image (John 12:24) captures a law of our human condition. The life that is not shared is squandered; the life that is given away is richer for the human spirit when men and women risk their own lives to save others, on a battlefield or in the less dramatic but daily generosity that holds families together and nourishes children.

The resurrection of Jesus confirms our trust that life comes after death and that life comes out of death. The promise of eternal life awaits us at the end of our pilgrimage, and the promise of new life is present in the daily dying of a life lived in love. The Lord has risen and has gone before us. We need not fear the future.

CHURCH SIGN

Many months ago we first noted the need for a sign in front of the church to identify our beloved Holy Family Parish and post vital information for parishioners and passers-by. This vision will soon become a reality - the sign has been ordered and the down payment made through the generosity of a few parishioners. However, the balance of the sign's cost still needs to be covered.

Please consider making a contribution to this much-needed addition to our parish grounds. Please call the Parish Office if you can help. We are truly grateful to those who have and will make this sign possible, and we will recognize these generous parties on the occasion of its unveiling.

HOLY FAMILY LITURGY COUNCIL

Monday, April 16, at 7:00 pm, the Holy Family Liturgy Council will be holding a special mid-month meeting focusing on Art and Environment in the Liturgy.

We would like to take this time to express our heartfelt thanks to those individuals who have worked so hard and so creatively to enhance our liturgies through special attention to the worship space - banners, flowers, special displays, and all the things that create a prayerful environment for liturgy.

The meeting next Monday will feature a guest expert on Liturgical Art and Environment and is designed to give a fresh perspective to the Council which will lead us to a comprehensive, forward-looking approach to utilizing our worship space.

All parishioners are invited to participate in the meeting and are always encouraged to lend their skills, creativity and time to this essential liturgical ministry. Please consider joining us in this endeavor. See next week's bulletin for more details.

DIVINE MERCY SUNDAY AT THE CATHEDRAL

Pope John Paul II established the Second Sunday of Easter as "Divine Mercy Sunday." Following the celebration of the Holy Triduum, Easter Sunday and the Octave of Easter, the Second Sunday of Easter draws attention to God's infinite mercy poured out on mankind through the Paschal Mystery of our Savior's death and resurrection.

The inspiration for the celebration of Divine Mercy on the Octave day of Easter goes back to the early centuries of the Church. For example, St. Gregory of Nazianzen wrote about it. For St. Augustine, the Octave Sunday of Easter climaxes our "creation in grace" through the mercy of Christ's Easter victory and is the "most privileged octave-day." The Divine Mercy was a frequent theme of Pope John Paul II.

The special Divine Mercy Mass at the Cathedral of the Blessed Sacrament will be celebrated at 3:00 p.m. to be preceded by the recitation of the Chapel of Mercy and veneration of St. Maria Faustina's relic at 2:30 pm.
