MESSAGE FROM POPE BENEDICT XVI - WORLD YOUTH DAY

The youth of the church are so important. Indeed in a sense we are all called to be young at heart. Therefore I am glad to share with you the beautiful message of Pope Benedict XVI to the young people of the world on the occasion of the XXIII World Youth Day, 2008. It is my hope that reading it will energize all of us regardless of age. It will be presented in three parts over three Sundays.

"You will receive power when the Holy Spirit has come upon you; and you will be my witnesses." (Acts 1:8)

My dear young friends!

1. The XXIII World Youth Day

I always remember with great joy the various occasions we spent together in Cologne in August 2005. At the end of that unforgettable manifestation of faith and enthusiasm that remains engraved on my spirit and on my heart, I made an appointment with you for the next gathering that will be held in Sydney in 2008. This will be the XXIII World Youth Day and the theme will be: "You will receive power when the Holy Spirit has come upon you; and you will be my witnesses" (Acts 1:8). The underlying theme of the spiritual preparation for our meeting in Sydney is the Holy Spirit and mission. In 2006 we focused our attention on the Holy Spirit as the Spirit of Truth. Now in 2007 we are seeking a deeper understanding of the Spirit of Love. We will continue our journey towards World Youth Day 2008 by reflecting on the Spirit of Fortitude and Witness that gives us the courage to live according to the Gospel and to proclaim it boldly. Therefore it is very important that each one of you young people - in your communities, and together with those responsible for your education - should be able to reflect on this Principal Agent of salvation history, namely the Holy Spirit or the Spirit of Jesus. In this way you will be able to achieve the following lofty goals: to recognize the Spirit's true identity, principally by listening to the Word of God in the Revelation of the Bible; to become clearly aware of his continuous, active presence in the life of the Church, especially as you rediscover that the Holy Spirit is the "soul", the vital breath of Christian life itself, through the sacraments of Christian initiation - Baptism, Confirmation and the Eucharist; to grow thereby in an understanding of Jesus that becomes ever deeper and more joyful and, at the same time, to put the Gospel into practice at the dawn of the third millennium. In this message I gladly offer you an outline for meditation that you can explore during this year of preparation. In this way you can test the quality of your faith in the Holy Spirit, rediscover it if it is lost, strengthen it if it has become weak, savor it as fellowship with the Father and with his Son Jesus Christ, brought about by the indispensable working of the Holy Spirit. Never forget that the Church, in fact humanity itself, all the people around you now and those who await you in the future, expect much from you young people, because you have within you the supreme gift of the Father, the Spirit of Jesus.

2. The promise of the Holy Spirit in the Bible

Attentive listening to the Word of God concerning the mystery and action of the Holy Spirit opens us up to great and inspiring insights that I shall summarize in the following points.

Shortly before his Ascension, Jesus said to his disciples: "And behold, I send the promise of my Father upon you" (Lk 24:49). This took place on the day of Pentecost when they were together in prayer in the Upper Room with the Virgin Mary. The outpouring of the Holy Spirit on the nascent Church was the fulfillment of a promise made much earlier by God, announced and prepared throughout the Old Testament.

In fact, right from its opening pages, the Bible presents the spirit of God as the wind that "was moving over the face of the waters" (cf. Gen 1:2). It says that God breathed into man's nostrils the breath of life (cf. Gen 2:7), thereby infusing him with life itself. After original sin, the life-giving spirit of God is seen several times in the history of humankind, calling forth prophets to exhort the chosen people to return to God and to observe his commandments faithfully. In the well-known vision of the prophet Ezekiel, God, with his spirit, restores to life the people of Israel, represented by the "dry bones" (cf. 37:1-14). Joel prophesied an "outpouring of the spirit" over all the people, excluding no one. The sacred author wrote: "And it shall come to pass afterward that I will pour out my spirit on all flesh ... Even upon the menservants and maidservants, in those days, I will pour out my spirit" (3:1-2).

In "the fullness of time" (cf. Gal 4:4), the angel of the Lord announced to the Virgin of Nazareth that the Holy Spirit, "the power of the Most High", would come upon her and overshadow her. The child to be born would be holy and would be called Son of God (cf. Lk 1:35). In the words of the prophet Isaiah, the Messiah would be the one on whom the Spirit of the Lord would rest (cf. 11:1-2; 42:1). This is the prophecy that Jesus took up again at the start of his public ministry in the synagogue in Nazareth. To the amazement of those present, he said: "The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, because he has anointed me to bring good news to the poor. He has sent me to proclaim release to the captives and recovery of sight to the blind, to let the oppressed go free, to proclaim the year of the Lord's favor" (Lk 4:18-19; cf. Is 61:1-2). Addressing those present, he referred those prophetic words to himself by saying: "Today this Scripture has been fulfilled in your hearing" (Lk 4:21). Again, before his death on the Cross, he would tell his disciples several times about the coming of the Holy Spirit, the "Counselor" whose mission would be to bear witness to him and to assist believers by teaching them and guiding them to the fullness of Truth (cf. Jn 14:16-17, 25-26; 15:26; 16:13).

CATHOLIC COMMUNICATION: THIS WEEKEND

In this 21st century, Catholics are challenged to spread the good news of our faith by modern means as well as traditional ones. That is why there is a second collection this weekend to support the annual Catholic Communication Campaign. Print, radio, internet, and television materials and programs are supported by your donations, including our local Diocesan projects. Your support is both needed and appreciated. Thank you for your support of Catholic Communication.

CAPITAL CAMPAIGN CONTRIBUTIONS

The "official" end of the Capital Campaign was June 30th. As mentioned in last year's financial report, the short-fall on our parish's contributions has to be made up to the diocese from general funds. However, within the parish, contributions from those who have not completed their commitment will continue to be encouraged to reimburse the general fund. Specific results of the campaign will be included in the annual financial report.

MAKING CURRENT GIFTS FROM YOUR IRA

New law allows gifts to charity directly from your IRA. Recent legislation allows donors age 70 1/2 or older to make gifts to Catholic Relief Services using funds transferred directly from their IRA without paying taxes on the distribution. This manner of giving is in effect until December 31, 2007.

For more information, please call Fr. Kiernan in the Parish Office at 723-2494.

CONSTRUCTION ZONE - OLD AUBURN ROAD

Sacramento Regional County Sanitation District (SRCSD) and County Sanitation District I (CSD-I) have started construction on sewer system improvements in the Citrus Heights area. Construction is taking place along Old Auburn Road from Sylvan Road to Sunrise Boulevard for approximately the next six months. This schedule could be delayed for unforeseen reasons.

Construction Hours:
7 a.m. - 8 p.m. Monday - Friday 8 a.m. - 8 p.m. Saturdays
*Certain exceptions will apply

Two-way traffic will be maintained at most times. However, from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. and from 7 p.m. to 8 p.m. materials unloading operations are allowed to take place. At those times the east or west-bound available lanes may be closed for 30 minute intervals, allowing traffic both ways alternating through one lane.

The project team will work diligently to minimize disruptions. However, access to residences, businesses and schools could be impacted during construction.

Pedestrian access will be provided at all times. Pedestrians are asked to observe the sidewalk closure signs and proceed only in designated areas through the construction zones. Children should stay away from construction areas and parents, guardians and school teachers are encouraged to talk to them about the dangers of construction zones.

If you have any comments or concerns regarding the construction, please call the toll-free, 24-hour project hotline at (866) 479-0600.
